

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before this important election demonstrates irresponsible use of the public airwaves. I believe that broadcasters must serve the public interest, and Sinclair is not serving us when it forces its stations to show a documentary that is so anti-Kerry. If you won't prohibit this move, please force Sinclair to air a documentary that speaks a different point of view. I would suggest Fahrenheit 9/11 or Going Up River.

Sinclair is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy. Instead of something produced at "News Central" far away, it's more important that we see real people from our own communities and more substantive news about issues that matter. I want news, facts, not speculation and bias. It is the responsibility of the FCC to keep broadcasters honest in the same way the news media should keep our, OUR, government honest.

More regulation, not less. News, and when it's opinion, make sure it is identified as such. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to voice my opinion.
